A Medical Authority Which Foretold the Typhoid Trouble.

EVEN THE DISTRICT INDICATED.

The Causes and the Most Effective Remedies Pointed Out.

NORTHSIDE PHISICIANS UNRUFFLED

Now that so much has been said of the inability of the Allegheny Board of Health to grasp the typhoid fever situation, suggestions as to a remedy are in order. On May 21 Dr. W. P. Munn, of Allegheny, read a very spicy paper before the County Medical Society on "The Functions and Duties of Health Boards." It never reached the daily papers, and as it treats of this identical trouble, though two months before typhoid fever broke out on the Northside, a part of it is timely now:

There is in the city of Allegheny a very general non-compliance with the ordinances requiring the prompt report of all cases of infectious diseases occurring within the city limits. Physicians are indifferent because the law has never been properly enforced and because compliance with it has not as a rule met with proper co-operation from the municipal health uthorities. The pody known as the Board of Health seems to be of the opinion that its functions begin and end in the investigation of Church, developed the fact that the venercesspool and similar nuisances, and annually congratulates itself and the city that a merciful Providence has not sent a smallpox visitation upon us; ignoring the fact that typhoid to entirely different but almost equally preventable causes.

The moral effect of a prop-erly uniformed and efficiently directed sani-tary police force would be great. Their report of statistics might be made the basis for med-ical resolution. ical regulation

By this means hundreds of cases of searlet fever, diphtheria and meastes might be prevented each year, and the number of deaths among school children largely de-deaths among school children largely decreased.

Fourth-Every case of the more serious contagious diseases, viz., scarlet fever, diphtheria and smallpox, should be visited in less than 24 The People in Buffalo Are Paying 25 Cents and smallpox, should be visited in less than 2 hours after being reported, by a medical in specier, who should give personal directions is regard to dismfection, isolation and attention and use his discretion in regard to posting ar official notice or card on the door.

MORE VIRULENT DISEASES Fifth-Cases of death from the more virulent diseases should be at once reported, and the funeral should be held under the personal supervision of the health inspector having special police powers. The Board should adopt regulations for the preparation, carriage and disposal of all bodies dead of virulent contagi-Illustrative of the necessity of some such regulations, I will narrate the following in-stance, occurring in my own practice: In an isolated district, at that time free from any scarlatina, one case of scarlet fever occurred; isolated district, at that time free from any scarlatina, one case of scarlet fever occurred; the medical attendant was lax, the fact that it was scarlet fever was kept quiet, and the child's brother continued attending school for several days. From the same room in the school two other children, living a half and a quarter mile away, and not exposed in any other manner, became sick of the disease, both recovering. From one of these children five others, one in the same house and four living next door, contracted the disease and two of them died. Then the outbreak ceased. I cannot help thinking that, had the first case been promptly reported and the brother kept from school, the other cases might not have occurred.

The health authorities should have an intelligent understanding of water supply, sewerage, disposal of waste material, etc., and should have sufficient authority for the sanitary control of these departments.

The recommendations of the health officers, if based on the prevalence of disease in unsewered or partially sewered districts, as conclusively shown by the man process previously detailed, would be of great weight in deter.

clusively shown by the man process previously detailed, would be of great weight in determining the location, size and drainage area of sewers. In relation to water supply, it would be equally weighty.

AN INSTANCE CITED.

For example, such a graphic illustration of the number of cases of typhoid fever in the triangular space bounded by Ridge avenue, Allegheny avenue and Rebecca street, and the number of resulting deaths, would, when taken in connection with the imperfectly sewered condition of the district and the accumulation condition of the district and the accumulation of surface water there, be productive of prompt action; provided that an intelligent medical health efficer and an intelligent sanitary engineer co-operated in the work. Again, a similar graphic illustration and statement of the percentage of preventable sickness in the totally unsewered hill district of Allezheny, having an estimated population of eighteen thousand (18,000), might be productive of good results, I would give a detailed description of these districts and a detailed statement of the cases of communicable diseases occurring in them if there was any likelihood of correct figures being obtainable, but such a statement is impossible. newsboys' traternity can be.

Lastly, I would suggest consideration of a matter seldom taken into account by health boards, and of material interest to the mass of our people. That is a regulation of house-building as to ventilation.

ANOTHER FEVER SCARE.

About 25 Cases in Upper Allegheny .- Physiclass De Not Think There is Danger of an Altogether there are about 25 cases, five of which are in one family, now being treated by upper Northside To introduce our fine crayon work. 100 25x physicians. water, the disease is most prevalent. There is another spring on East Ohio street, where there are quite a number of people sick. I have told my patients that they must stop using the water, and since the advice was given there has been a sight falling off in the number of cases. Many people imagine that it is safer to drink water from a cool spring than the stuff from the Allecheny river. While I do not use the river water myself, it is much safer than the water from city springs, into which flow the drainings from outhouses, etc. I understand that the disease is also very prevalent at the head of Arch street. head of Arch street.

Dr. Terree, of the same street, said:

Ide not fear an epidemic, although there is considerable sickness here. The reports of the Board of Health for last week showed but five deaths from this cause. I know of five cases in one family within a short distance of my office. There is one case upon Oho street and another across the street from here. At this time of year there is always considerable fever, but this summer there is a little more than usual. Dr. Shaner said:

I am attending several malarial patients, but no typhoid fever. I understand there are a number of cases of the latter in this part of the city, but do not think there is any danger of an epidemic. In my district, which includes the Third, Seventh and Eighth wards, I have not a single case. Dr. Easton told me that he has not had any cases either.

Dr. Euwer also has a number of mild cases, but considers none of them dangerous, All of them are attributable to bad water and defective drainage.

able clergyman is not as seriously ill as was supposed. Some days since he had a slight tall, which injured his knee and head fever, searlet fever, and diphtheria, each due slightly; but at the advanced age of 97 years any injury, no matter how trifling, assumes a serious complexion. He is resting easily, and although visitors are not allowed to see him, there are no fears of permanent indisposition.

Dr. Compton is one of the oldest clergymen in active duty in the United States, certainly the oldest in the Episcopal de that nothing is a nuisance unless it offends nomination, and will shortly complete his fifty-eighth year of active service. He has been uninterruptedly rector of St. Paul's Church for 26 years. His voice is firm and distinct, and his energetic declamation of the gospel might be profitably imitated by much younger men.

There will be no services in St. Paul's Church until the first Sunday in December. The rector of Trinity P. E. Church, Rev. Samuel Maxwell, announced last Sunday evening that the vestry of the church had also determined to close that edifice during August for repairs. St. Peter's, however, will maintain morning services during August.

NATURAL GAS RATES RISE.

Per 1,000 Cabic Feet.

There may be some satisfaction to the people of Pittsburg and Allegheny in the fact that they are not the only ones who have to fight natural gas companies for charging excessive rates for the great fuel. Mr. Alexander McKay, general agent of the Fuel Gas and Electric Engineering Company, has just returned from Buffalo, and says:

The Buffalo Natural Gas and Fuel Gas Com pany has just raised the price of fuel from 20 to 25 cents per 1,600 cubic feet net. The company 25 cents per 1,000 cubic feet net. The company claims it cannot supply the gas cheaper, and the consequence is that only those who can afford to pay such an exorbitant price for a lux-ry use-the gas. The Buffalo Company is controlled by the Standard Oil Company. They get their fuel from the Wilcox district, Northern Pennsylvania. The gas is piped to Buffalo mone S-inch line, a distance of 94 miles.

"I will cut your black heart out, and hang it to dry on this bridge, in the same way I did my uncle's, three years ago!" is the threat which Annie Evans, colored, alleges was made to her by David Hill, a big, brawny negro, who obstructed her way on Twenty-eighth street bridge Sunday night. She complains before Alderman O'Donnell, for surety of the peace as regards Hill, who, as she alleges, kept her in terror on the bridge for an hour. A warrant is out.
